Letter from the Foundation

As healthcare continues to change and health issues become more prevalent, the Floyd Memorial Foundation is committed to ensuring appropriate resources, equipment and technology are in place at Baptist Health Floyd to meet the needs of physicians, nurses and the entire medical staff to provide effective and essential care to our patients. Our focus is, and always has been, to ensure there are quality resources in place for the better health and well-being of those residents in the six counties we serve in Southern Indiana. In addition, we are equally committed to supporting area health-related agencies and initiatives so the community has the necessary health resources available to live better, longer and happier lives. In 2016, we continued to partner with Family Health Centers and Camp Quality Kentuckiana. We also helped support elementary schools in New Albany by providing teachers and counselors with accessibility to improvised learning tools. These innovative learning and teaching methods have proven to impact the landscape for learning, both for the teacher and the student, overcoming learning hurdles and behaviors and allowing for a healthy peace of mind. The Foundation continues to be grateful for those who support our mission with their caring dollars, allowing us to impact quality care and provide these valuable health resources. Thank you!

Best wishes to you in the New Year!

Conscious Discipline Consciously Impacting Learning and Teaching

In 2016, the Floyd Memorial Foundation supported a new learning initiative for Slate Run and Green Valley elementary schools. The program, Conscious Discipline, is an evidenced-based, trauma informed approach to social-emotional learning founded by Dr. Becky Bailey, an award-winning author, renowned teacher and internationally recognized expert in childhood education and developmental psychology. She created Conscious Discipline to be an effective learning tool for not only students but teachers and parents as well.

Local educators Amy Niemeier, principal at Slate Run Elementary, and Heather Finn, assistant principal at Green Valley Elementary, first learned of this innovative learning tool a few years ago. Dr. Finn was working on her master’s degree when she came upon Conscious Discipline in her research. Around the same time, Niemeier discovered this new learning practice when she was hired as principal and, simultaneously, Slate Run was undergoing its own set of challenges after they received an influx of students when four local schools closed. Both Dr. Finn and Niemeier were intrigued with the idea of Conscious Discipline.

Conscious Discipline is an evidenced-based, trauma informed approach to social-emotional learning. Dr. Becky Bailey has spent 20 years researching, developing, and implementing the ideas behind the four components: 1) brain state model: how our internal states dictate our behavior; 2) seven powers of conscious adults: shifting the adult perception of behavior to consciously respond and use conflict as an opportunity to teach, creating the school family; 3) building connections: willingness to learn, impulse control in a culture of compassion; and 4) seven skills of discipline: supporting children in learning and using skills to manage themselves, problem solve and resolve conflict and develop healthy behavior.

Slate Run Elementary School began its Conscious Discipline journey in April 2013 when Principal Niemeier introduced staff to The Story of Fern Creek to prepare them for the shift the school would undertake in the coming school year. At the time, Slate Run was plagued with falling morale, declining scores and days spent “trying to control the chaos”, according to Niemeier. The handle the students' oops, too. It takes a lot of pressure off when you know you can all use 'oops' moments as learning experiences. There's a sense of 'let me help you learn how to do it better' instead of 'you're going to pay dearly for responding inappropriately.'

As staff implemented Conscious Discipline, referral numbers began to drop and test scores began to rise. The year before implementing Conscious Discipline, Slate Run recorded 1,011 discipline referrals. Once Conscious Discipline was implemented, the number dropped to 938, then 813, and finally to 793 last year, a 22 percent overall decrease in referrals. In addition, there was a 44 percent decrease in referrals of students who stayed in the building. Slate Run earned two consecutive “A’s” (2015-2016 and 2016-2017) from the Indiana Department of Education for academic growth.

The staff lists mutual respect, support, empathy and feeling that they matter among their top results as they continue with their Conscious Discipline journey. For students, they list helping them grow both emotionally and academically at the top of their successes.

“The world is changing and continues to become more socially disconnected,” school counselor Danielle Christian said. “Children are increasingly unable to regulate their emotions, problem solve effectively and interact in a socially acceptable manner. Conscious Discipline gives us ways to change this and create a more connected, safe environment for students, staff and families.”

Green Valley Elementary School was identified as a priority school three years ago, receiving an "F" from the state. "We have been dedicated to finding the best academic approaches, as well as implementing Conscious Discipline in our school," stated Dr. Finn.

We truly believe that the focused attention on teaching students self-regulation skills and modeling composure as adults has greatly impacted our school. We were identified as a 'D' school in fall 2016 and recently were informed that our current grade by the state is a 'C'. We are thrilled to continue growing as a staff and as a school family," said Dr. Finn. This evidence of growth shows they are constantly improving due to this new approach. There has been a significant decline in physical altercations and suspensions over the past three years, especially with the older students, according to Dr. Finn.

The school counselor, Christy Heiligenberg, shared that she has seen more consistency with self-regulation skills among students in the upper grades over the past few years. “Third and fourth graders at Green Valley have stronger skills for calming themselves when they are upset and handling upset overall. They also have learned assertiveness and how to communicate appropriately when feeling angry or upset with other students,” said Heiligenberg. Seeing this impact in the older students is directly connected to teaching the younger students to use their big voices and to handle conflict as an opportunity to learn and grow together as part of a school family.

Brad Green, a kindergarten teacher at Green Valley, shared that he has noticed stronger connections among his students and much more empathy for each other over the past three years as he implements Conscious Discipline in his classroom. “They quickly learn to use their words with each other using Conscious Discipline. They help each other solve problems and they notice when friends are upset or sad and offer support,” stated Green.

This school year Green Valley Elementary has partnered with the Prevent Child Abuse Council, hosting the monthly meetings for the Floyd/Clark County members at their school. In these meetings, Conscious Discipline skills have been introduced to these community organizations by Dr. Finn, Christy Heiligenberg, and Ann Carruthers, the President of the Council. Along with this, the school has started hosting Parent Café events, in which parents are invited to the school for breakfast and an introduction to the different skills that their children are learning. This is done in hopes that these skills will be practiced at home as well. Green Valley is committed to doing what is best to serve their students!

"Healthy Living, Happy Life" Art Contest

For the third annual Floyd Memorial Foundation Art Contest, sponsored by Dr. William Garner III and family, kindergarten through fourth grade students at nine New Albany-Floyd County elementary schools entered art pieces supporting the theme “Healthy Living, Happy Life”. Each school submitted one art piece to represent each grade amounting to 47 entries overall. Those creations were framed and displayed on the walls in the hallways at Baptist Health Floyd. From November 17 through December 31, patients, visitors and hospital associates voted on their favorite art piece. The winner and runner-up, both from Greenville Elementary School, received a monetary award and the winner was featured in the News and Tribune. We sincerely appreciate Dr. Garner and his family, all participating New Albany-Floyd County art teachers’ time and enthusiasm for this annual program, and all those who voted! Thank you, also, to Ben Franklin Arts and Crafts for contributing the frames.

Foundation Supports Employee Continuing Medical Education Scholarships

Every year, the Floyd Memorial Foundation, along with the Baptist Health Floyd Auxiliary and the Baptist Health Floyd medical staff, offer scholarships for Baptist Health Floyd employees to continue their medical or health-related education. Employees who apply may receive up to $5,000 in scholarship funding to apply to one school year of tuition fees and book purchases. Applicants must have a 2.5 GPA or greater and be in good standing at work and at school. For the 2016-2017 school year, we awarded nine associate scholarships totaling $24,510. New in 2016, $500 dependent scholarships awarded to employees’ dependent children or grandchildren. These applicants were required to also be in good scholastic standing and enrolled or attending an accredited college or university program. We received an overwhelming response and awarded 26 $500 scholarships! We hope these students are all doing well and may someday support the Southern Indiana medical community with their technical expertise and knowledge at Baptist Health Floyd!

On April 10, 2016, New Albany lost a long standing loyal and dedicated member of both the medical and local community when Marshall Harding Buchman, MD, passed away. He was 91. Many folks remember Dr. Buchman and his wife Winifred practicing from their home office at 1824 State Street, a site now occupied by the Emergency Department at Baptist Health Floyd. Dr. Buchman closed his practice in 1989 when the hospital purchased the property. He was a member of the medical staff at the former Floyd Memorial Hospital and served as Chief of Medical Staff in 1969.

Their son, Joe Buchman, PhD, wanted to ensure that his parents’ legacy remained in the southern Indiana community. He and his family established the Dr. Marshall H. Buchman & Winifred G. Buchman, RN, Memorial Fund, in remembrance of his father and his mother, a surgical nurse and Emergency Department supervisor at the former Floyd Memorial Hospital for over a decade. The fund honors his parents’ intimate family practice and service to their patients, their long tenures with the hospital, and the unique relationship with an institution that was entwined in the lives of the family.

If you have memories of Joe’s parents which you would like to share, email drbuchman@gmail.com.

If you are interested in making a donation to the Dr. Marshall H. Buchman & Winifred G. Buchman Memorial Fund, please contact the Foundation office at 812.949.5519 or visit www.FloydFoundation.org to make an online donation.

Memorials & Honorariums

The Foundation is honored to recognize those members of the community who have passed away and those community members who have had a substantial impact on the lives of others. Individuals have the opportunity to make a donation to the Foundation in honor of a special person in their life, either by recognizing a birthday, an anniversary, a significant milestone or just because. These naming opportunities not only recognize and highlight those who have been meaningful in one’s life but also ensures a lasting memory for special family members and friends. Gifts received for memorial funds, memorial donations and honorary donations support the mission of the Floyd Memorial Foundation.

Forever Loved Ceremony

In October 1998, President Ronald Reagan proclaimed October as National Pregnancy and Infant Loss Awareness Month. On October 15, 2016, the Floyd Memorial Foundation and Baptist Health Floyd were honored to host the 1st Forever Loved ceremony at the New Albany Amphitheater to help those remember and mourn those young babies lost too soon.

The ceremony welcomed Southern Indiana parents and family members who had suffered a miscarriage, an ectopic pregnancy, a still birth or the loss of an infant, no matter how long ago the loss. Too many families grieve in silence, sometimes never coming to terms with their loss. On this night, we hoped they would be comforted by love and support from other community members who have also experienced the loss of a child, and have a chance to reflect on their personal loss yet embrace the love for their child's short but meaningful life.

Thank you to the members of the Pregnancy/Infant Loss Committee and those who participated in the ceremony for their time and dedication. Thanks, also, to the Jeffersonville FOP Lodge #100 for their generous donation. For more information on the Forever Loved ceremony or to make a donation to the Baptist Health Floyd Bereavement Fund, contact the Foundation office at 812.949.5519 or meredith.lambe@bhsi.com. Large and standard sized tulips are available for purchase and can be inscribed with the name and birth date of the child, or children (limited number of names per tulip). Donations to the Babies in Bloom tree will support medical resources and healthcare needs for the Labor and Delivery department at Baptist Health Floyd. The tulip tree, also known as the tulip poplar or yellow poplar, has been recognized as Indiana's state tree since 1931. For more information about purchasing a tulip, visit www.FloydFoundation.org.

Fast Freddie's Festive Five Mile Foot Feast Still Running After 28 Years

For the 28th consecutive year, Fred Geswein organized Fast Freddie's Festive Five Mile Foot Feast on Thanksgiving Day at the Floyd County 4-H Fairgrounds in New Albany. Years ago, Fred started the race to raise money for diabetes after his two children were diagnosed with type 1, or juvenile, diabetes. The race has grown substantially over the years and welcomes runners of all ages and running abilities from a wide spectrum, from the Olympic runner to the elementary school runner. In 2016, there were 931 total finishers - 875 finished the five mile course and an additional 56 finished the two-mile walk. Carl Stone, 27, was the men's winner finishing in 24.48 and Sarah Pease, 29, finishing at 27.43 came in first for the women's division for the sixth time. Both winners qualified for the U.S. Olympic and World Championship Trials. Rob Mullett, the 2015 men's winner, still holds the record at 23.30.

In 2016, Fast Freddie's raised $10,000 to support the Floyd Memorial Hospital's Joslin Diabetes Center. Congratulations and thank you to all runners and walkers who participated in the event and supported Fast Freddie's on Thanksgiving Day 2016!

Mark your calendars and plan to join Freddie and a "gaggle" of other runners on Thanksgiving 2018 for your pre-turkey dinner workout! For more information about this popular annual Thanksgiving Day event, log onto www.fredrun.com.

In spring of 2016, the Foundation hosted the Heritage Society members at the historic Culbertson Mansion in downtown New Albany. Culbertson Mansion staff and volunteers presented a Murder Mystery Dinner. The scene was staged at a cocktail party in the Mansion’s parlour and involved former New Albany citizens from the early 1960s. While enjoying a delicious dinner prepared by the Culbertson Mansion volunteers, Heritage Society members found themselves in the midst of the mystery involving other “guests” at the dinner, one of which ultimately met his or her demise. It was up to the Heritage Society guests to determine the murderer and the motive. It was a lot of fun witnessing the actors and actresses interact and drop clues with regard to a possible motive to murder, all the while trying to determine who carried out the act and why. Thank you to the Culbertson Mansion for hosting this unique dinner and for those Heritage Society members who were able to help solve the mystery!

30th Annual Golf Classic

For 30 years, the Floyd Memorial Foundation has hosted a golf scramble to help support much needed medical resources, equipment and technology for Floyd Memorial Hospital, now Baptist Health Floyd. The Golf Classic originally started out small at the former New Albany Country Club, raising $5,000 its first year. The fun and excitement revolving around this annual event grew over the years to now include two flights of golf at Covered Bridge Golf Club raising over $200,000. The Foundation would like to thank all those board and committee members, sponsors and golfers who championed this event and helped raise millions of dollars over 30 years to support the hospital and positively impact patient care. For the 30th year, the Foundation topped its goal and raised $250,000 thanks to so many golfers who came out to play, many others who attended the reception held the night before and participated in the silent auction, and all the local and regional businesses that have supported this event year after year! We are so grateful to all our partners, including our presenting sponsor NFP. We hope you’ll plan to join us for the 32nd Annual Golf Classic scheduled for June 8 at Covered Bridge Golf Club and plan to attend the reception the night before! Two days of fun times!

Thank You WHAS Crusade for Children and Horseshoe Foundation of Floyd County

Baptist Health Floyd was fortunate to receive support from two community organizations, Horseshoe Foundation of Floyd County and the WHAS Crusade for Children. The Horseshoe Foundation continued to support the long standing massage therapy program at the Baptist Health Cancer Center at Floyd, providing a $10,000 grant to ensure complimentary massages would be offered to cancer and terminally ill patients. Throughout the years, recipients of this program have expressed their gratitude for this healing service that enables them to relax, gain strength and better mobility, and relieve stress associated with their diagnosis and treatment.

WHAS Crusade for Children generously supported the education program at Baptist Health Floyd, donating $20,000 for the purchase of SimMom, a simulated manikin that allows instructors to create real life birthing situations in a classroom setting so students, including the Baptist Health Floyd medical staff and community emergency responders, will be knowledgeable about and trained for any birthing situation, and understand the complexities of almost any medical situation when a mother is in labor.

We appreciate these organizations and the generous support they offer for our employees and patient community!
In 2016, the Food and Nutrition Services (FNS) department at Baptist Health Floyd submitted a grant request to construct three raised gardens in the green space next to the cafeteria. The intent was to grow herbs and vegetables for use in the cafeteria for meals served in the cafeteria.

Once the gardens were built and established in the spring and summer of 2016, the garden was bountiful with a variety of vegetables including tomatoes, cucumbers, peppers and herbs including thyme, rosemary, basil and dill to name a few.

Since the implementation of the three garden beds, the gardens continue to flourish thanks to some tender loving care provided by enthusiastic employees with Baptist Health Floyd who have volunteered to keep the gardens watered, tend to the weeds and bugs, and ensure they continue to be abundant with produce and spices for the Food & Nutrition Services' staff. Thanks to their good work, the cafeteria staff will use organic resources for meals served spring to fall.

If you are interested in putting your green thumb to work and want to volunteer to help with the Raised Gardens, please contact the Foundation office.
